2:30-3:45	Food Deserts – A Jewish Response	Mini Social Hall	Nathan Martin	Several major urban areas in the U.S. are in danger of becoming supermarket deserts: places where healthy, affordable food options are limited, at best. What are ways that Jewish tradition can inform us to be more aware and responsive to this situation? This session will draw from Jewish texts as well as from our own personal experience to wrestle with this challenging issue.

2:30-3:45	Hydrofracking: Energy and the Environment	Gelman Activity Center	David Fitterman	Hydraulic fracturing (called fracking) is a technique that has been used for more than 60 years to increase production in oil, gas and water wells. Recent interest in gas-bearing shales around the U.S., including in Pennsylvania and New York, raises environmental concerns about fracking. We will explore the how and why of fracking, its environmental impact and the current situation in New York.
2:30-3:45	Bringing it Home: Making Our Organizations More Inclusive and Lowering Barriers	Jewish Heritage Center	Valerie Lieber	Our organizations want to be perceived as warm, welcoming and open environments. We will address how to involve and welcome Jews who are in historically underrepresented groups in organizations: Sephardic and Mizrahi, physically disabled, the very young, the very old, GLBT, people living in poverty and more.
2:30-3:45	Teva Kids	Teva Building	Teva Educators	Eco-Drama – theatrical fun to discover new meaning in Jewish stories.
2:30-3:45	Teva Teens	Teva Building	Teva Educators	Develop your outdoor wilderness skills and strengthen your team's sense of togetherness while out on the trail, as we find new ways to engage with the forest and her plants, animals and each other.
4-5:15	Ultimate Frisbee	Field across from the Motel	Ezra Weinberg & Eytan Kurshan	Always a highlight of the retreat.
4-5:15	Bananas, Coffee and Chocolate: Your international food choices matter	Mini Social Hall	Rachel Ackoff	The fight for the future of sustainable agriculture in the U.S. and abroad depends on each country having the right to determine sensible farm and food policies that meet the needs of farmers and consumers. Rachel, former trade policy staffer at the Sierra Club, will explain how current trade pact rules curtail the ability of governments to implement good food policies.
4-5:15	Book Club: Kosher Nation	Jewish Heritage Center	Jessica Haller	In case you missed the Friday night sessions, Jessica will facilitate a discussion of the book Kosher Nation . Due to the expansive nature of the topic, this discussions will be interesting to everyone-even if you haven't read the book
4-5:15	Learning Your Labels	Gelman Activity Center	Leah Koenig	Organic, Fair Trade, Single Origin, Vegan – With so many labels competing for real estate on our food wrappers, it can be a challenge to figure out what's really inside. This interactive session will explore the history of food labeling; help decode some common label myths and share tips and tools for how to make decisions in the supermarket aisle.
4-5:15	Yoga	Performing Arts Center	Shuli Passow	Stretch the mind, body and spirit in this yoga class, which will include mindful breathing and asana (posture) practice focusing on alignment. The practice will help open up hips and legs, getting riders ready for coming days. Open level class, with options available for both beginners and those with more experience.
4 4:30	Flat Changing Workshop	Tennis Courts		We want every Rider to feel a high level of confidence in being able to change a flat tire. It will make you a more confident cyclist and able to help others on the road.
5:30-6:15	Cross the Country With Hazon	Pagoda	Wendy Levine	In 2012, Hazon is planning another trip across the country. The route is set and registration is open. Come learn about the journey of lifetime.
5:30 -6:15	Bringing it Home: Hazon's Food Audit	Jewish Heritage Center	Anna Hanau	In combination with our Food Guide, Hazon is launching a Food Audit you can use in your organization or home to gauge your progress towards sustainability. Anna will walk you through a sample audit and show you how you can use this new tool to create change in your organization's food policy.

6-6:30	Mincha	Mini Social Hall & Gelman Activity		Egalitarian afternoon prayers will be in the Mini Social Hall and a service with a mechitza will be in the Gelman Activity Center.
5:30	Early Seating for Dinner	Dining Hall		Families who cannot wait until 6:30pm should come to the dining hall for an abbreviated menu with kid-friendly food.
