

HAZON FOOD FESTIVAL

LIBERTY, FOOD & JUSTICE

For all

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 20, 2013

9:30 am - 5:30 pm

Congregation Rodeph Shalom, 615 North Broad Street, Philadelphia

hazon.org/phillyfoodfestival

phillyfoodfestival@hazon.org

Hundreds of people across the Jewish community are coming together around issues of food, sustainability, and Jewish life in Philadelphia at

The 1st Annual Philadelphia Hazon Food Festival: Liberty, Food & Justice for All

Sunday, October 20, 2013

9:30 am - 5:30 pm

Congregation Rodeph Shalom, 615 North Broad St., Philadelphia

Join other foodies, farmers, beekeepers, rabbis, restaurateurs, chefs, entrepreneurs, educators, vegans, and omnivores for a full day of DIY workshops, hands-on learning experiences, and Jewish debate on:

Healthy Food • Food Justice • Green Living • Jewish Texts

Keynote address will be given by Senator Daylin Leach, a Philadelphia native, on GMO labeling in Pennsylvania.

Lunch provided with Admission

Follow us at Facebook.com/Hazon.org or @HazonPhilly on Twitter

Co-sponsored by:

Barber Gale, Congregation Rodeph Shalom, Adath Israel, Kol Ami, Temple Sinai, What is Your Food Worth,
Reconstructionist Rabbinical College, Kol Tzedek, Mekor Habracha, Temple Beth Zion-Beth Israel, Kenneth Israel, Federation of Southern Jersey
Visit our website for more sponsors.

Register at hazon.org/phillyfoodfestival
phillyfoodfestival@hazon.org
#LibertyFoodJustice