

-What do we have to do individually and collectively to realign our habits and lifestyle choices, so as to create human systems that are integrated into the surrounding natural systems.

-How can we transform our current exploitative practices into more resilient systems which create habitat for future generations of life on earth?

-How does our Jewish heritage serve to guide us on this path?