Hazon is seeking 1-2 part-time spring 2015 interns to work with staff and volunteers to support the one-day Jewish food festival, to be held May 17, 2015. The festival is a one-day extravaganza at the intersection of food, sustainability and Jewish life that attracts hundreds of people for a day community, fun, learning, doing, and, of course, eating!

This is an unpaid position. We are looking for people who can work 10-15 hours week; start and end dates are flexible and weekly hours are flexible.

Primary responsibilities:

- Supporting Food Festival volunteers and Hazon staff to put together excellent, compelling, fun, and innovative programming.
- Creating foodie/environmental “activity kits” for use at exhibitor tables.
- Researching and helping recruit food vendors.
- Helping coordinate day-of event volunteers before and during the event.
- Disseminating marketing material.
- Being part of the set-up and clean-up crews on the day of the event.

Hazon has benefitted greatly from the presence of energetic and passionate interns. We are committed to offering interesting, fulfilling, and fun internship experiences to give you practical work experience and a firsthand view of a successful nonprofit organization. While you will provide some useful assistance to Hazon, you will gain valuable on-the-job training that will assist you with your future career search. You will have a supervisor who will work with you closely to set you own personal goals for your internship experience and help you develop marketable skills for your future. Your supervisor will be your resource to make sure you are on track and will meet with you regularly, providing effective feedback and meaningful guidance.

Intern must have own computer and work space. A phone is available if needed.

The ideal candidate will be informed and passionate about the intersection of food, sustainability, and Jewish life, organized, responsible and reliable, self-motivated, detail-oriented, an excellent interpersonal communicator, have a professional demeanor, be comfortable communicating with lots of new people, excited to learn new things, able to do small tasks while thinking big, and a team-player who contributes to a friendly work atmosphere.
