A SUNDAY IN HELL (Adapted)

Directed by Jorgen Leth

With live score by

Amedeo Pace and Simone Pace (Blonde Redhead) with Jeanann Dara and chamber ensemble.

In Jorgen Leth's film some of cycling's greatest-ever professional riders compete in the 1976 edition of the sport's most grueling and prestigious single-day race, Paris-Roubaix. This is one of the most important documentaries ever made on the sport of cycling, and arguably one of the best sports documentaries ever filmed.

Simone and Amedeo Pace of Blonde Redhead will perform their contemporary score to an edited version of the original film, accompanied by a string ensemble.
