

Chief Climate & Sustainability Officer (CCSO)

Hazon, the nation's largest faith-based environmental organization in the United States, is leading a movement to deeply weave sustainability into the fabric of Jewish life. We aim for this work to strengthen and transform Jewish institutions and communities, and inspire those outside the Jewish world to join us in building a healthier, more sustainable, and equitable world for all.

In July of 2021, Hazon announced a plan to merge with the Pearstone Campus, the strongest Jewish retreat center and JOFEE site in North America. This new entity is now poised to even more effectively and impactfully lead the Jewish, Outdoor, Food, Farming and Environmental Education (JOFEE) world and the Jewish environmental movement as a whole.

Hazon's new Chief Climate & Sustainability Officer (CCSO) will report to Jakir Manela, Hazon's Chief Executive Officer. We are looking for someone who is deeply mission-aligned and has the demonstrated capacity to further develop and strengthen all of Hazon's climate and sustainability work.

Responsibilities include:

- Overseeing a major new initiative that will engage both national and local Jewish organizations to develop and implement decarbonization efforts across Jewish communities everywhere. This initiative aims to exponentially increase the visibility and resonance of the climate crisis across the Jewish world and spark a dramatic increase in concrete climate actions across Jewish institutions and the individuals who are part of them.
- Overseeing the Hazon Seal of Sustainability, a national program engaging local Jewish organizations taking substantive action toward sustainability and climate goals. Seal sites commit to a multi-year process of improving the environmental performance of their facilities and operations, and integrating sustainability into Jewish programming. Over 200 organizations have participated in the Hazon Seal process over the past 5 years.

- Leading organizational decarbonization efforts throughout Hazon and Pearlstone facilities and operations. The CCSO will work with Hazon’s Director of Sustainable Facilities and other staff to develop and implement our internal decarbonization plans.
- Supporting program integration of climate awareness and action. The CCSO will work with other key Hazon staff in the following ways:
 - Partner with Hazon’s Director of Food & Climate to integrate Food and Agriculture across our climate and sustainability initiatives.
 - Partner with Hazon’s Chief Program Officer and the JOFEE Programming Team to integrate climate awareness, education, and action into all of Hazon & Pearlstone’s programs.
 - Partner with Hazon’s Chief Operating Officer and leaders at the Pearlstone Retreat Center & Isabella Freedman Jewish Retreat Center in order to integrate climate awareness, education, and action into all retreat rentals.
 - Partner with Hazon’s Chief Development Officer and Chief Finance and Administration Officer to support our fundraising efforts and develop/manage budgets for all our climate and sustainability initiatives.
- Serving as Interfaith Liaison. The CCSO will develop and implement Hazon’s strategy for participation in interfaith, international, and other multifaceted coalitions.
- Serving as part of Hazon’s Senior Leadership Team. The CCSO will collaborate with the CEO, Executive Team, and board members as necessary to craft strategic plans, budgets, and SMART goals for annual and long-term program development.

Qualifications

- 5-10 years of professional experience in a non-profit and/or Jewish organization including as part of a senior management team.
- Outstanding written and oral communication skills.
- Demonstrated success in implementing decarbonization efforts in other settings.
- High level of climate and sustainability literacy. .
- High level of comfort and fluency in connecting climate and sustainability issues with Jewish values and traditions.
- At least 3 years of experience working closely with the organized Jewish community, including both local and national organizations of various kinds.
- Detail-oriented with the ability to take initiative, organize others, track multiple projects simultaneously and communicate with internal and external stakeholders.
- Excellent time management skills.
